CONFISCATED.

The Haytian Government's Confiscation of an American Steamer.

WHICH IS ALLEGED TO HAVE VIOLATED A BLOCKADE

And Actively Participated in a Rebellion. One Minister Now Investigating the Case—Justice Matthews Slowly Improving—Inaugural Preparations—Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Haytian legation in this city has given out the following statement:

"The prize court of Port-au-Prince, after trial, has condemned the American steamer Haytian Republic to confiscation, for violating the blockade of the port of St. Marc and for actively participating in the rebellion of the northern districts of Haiti. The sentence of the court was passed on the 11th of October last. The United States steamship Boston has arrived at Port-au-Prince, where her commander is assisting the United States minister in investigating the case. An appeal may be taken to the court of cassation (supreme court)."

More Trouble Anticipated.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.—The British steamship Texan reached her wharf Sunday four and a half days from Port-au-Prince. They bring the report that the United States steamer Boston had arrived and made a demand for the surrender of the steamer Haytian Republic, which had been under seizure by the legitimate faction. The demand was about to be acceded to when the Texan left there. Everything was quiet when the Texan sailed, but more trouble was anticipated.

Postoffice Statistics.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—First Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson's annual report shows that 12,388 postmasters were appointed during the past fiscal year, over one-half being on account of resignations or commissions expiring. Only 1,244 were removed.

One thousand six hundred and twenty-five offices were discontinued, and 2,250 established. Two-thirds of the offices established were in the southern states and Indian Territory. Nine states showed over one hundred new offices established, and Pennsylvania was the only one in the north.

The Newly Married Couple.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and his young bride are spending a portion of their honeymoon at Chevy Chase, Md. Mrs. Chamberlain having previously moved their old country home at the disposal of the newly married couple. The bride and groom spent the greater part of Sunday afternoon driving about the country roads in the vicinity of their temporary quarters. Mrs. Chamberlain, having two sons, Chevy Chase is about as homelike a place as could well have been selected for the honeymoon. As heretofore stated, Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain will spend a few days in the guests of the latter's parents previous to sailing for England on the 25th inst.

Justice Matthews' Condition.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Justice Matthews continues to steadily improve in health and it is now thought probable that he may be able to take his right place on the bench again before the court adjourns in May next. His disease, however, is one which yields very slowly to treatment and much care is necessary to build the patient up. While Justice Matthews is likely to get well again he will always be liable to attacks of the gout or some kindred disease as the result of any slight indiscretion.

Preparing for the Immigration.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The committee in charge of the immigration ceremonies is hard at work. About $15,000 has already been subscribed. The committee expect to raise $40,000 by subscription and the balance from the sale of tickets to the ball. The members of the executive committee are Crosby S. Noyes, A. M. Clapp, John W. Thompson, C. C. Glover, and William M. Galt. The latter two are Democrats, as the affair will be non-partisan.

Oakview Not for Sale.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—In relation to the rumor that the president contemplated selling Oakview, prominent real estate men, who would be likely to know if any negotiations had been in progress to dispose of the president's home, deny that they are any truth in the story. President Cleveland may or may not have made up his mind to leave Washington after March 4, but he certainly has not put Oakview upon the market either for sale or rent.

UP SALT RIVER.

Sorrowful Journey of the Hocking County, Ohio, Democracy.

LOGAN, O., Nov. 20.—Undoubtedly the richest parade ever seen in this city was the one given by the Democracy Saturday evening on route for Salt River. The procession was preceded by a band of music, playing the dead march in "Saul." In the first carriage were several prominent men of the party engaged in drinking and smoking. This was followed by a large omnibus, called the "Salt River Packet." Charles Ross, and contained the Logan Dutch glee club. On the side of the omnibus was this placard: "Salt River Packet, Charles Ross, Dutch Glee Club Inside. Died November 6 From Too Much Thurf Reform. To Be Resurrected in 1892."

There were hundreds in the procession dressed in fantastic costumes with sticks and bundles over their shoulders. The procession contained many laughable transparents suitable for the occasion. In the rear of the parade was a drum corps with muffled drums, playing a dead march. It certainly was the most laughable affair that ever took place in Logan, and was witnessed by the entire population of the city. Wad Gags, the instigator of the affair, deserves much credit for the fun afforded the people of Logan.

An Election Better Baptized.
OLIVE HILL, Ky., Nov. 20.—An election was held between Mr. J. L. Robins and H. Bowen was held Sunday. Bowen baptized Robins in the cold waters of Tygart creek in the name of Harrison and protection. The doctor went under with a bandana around his neck and body, and remarked when safe on the gravel shores that he was a better Democrat than ever, and successfully wheeled J. B. Effort through the streets of the town in a wheelbarrow. Our little town was crowded with people from all parts of the county.

Going to Expenses.
CORYDON, Ind., Nov. 21.—The Republics of Mississippi, this country, got on a horse, formed in funeral procession, marched to the cemetery and went through the form of burying President Cleveland. This exhibition has highly amused the Democrats.

PAUPER IMMIGRATION.
Congressman Ford Now Making Investigations in Michigan.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 20.—Congressman Ford, chairman of the congressional committee, when he has been investigating the subject of pauper immigration, is now in this city. He states that he will issue a call for the committee to meet in Washington on the Monday or Tuesday, or fore Congress convenes. Mr. Ford says that if his views are adopted the bill to be presented to congress by the committee will provide for the appointment of consular inspectors to every foreign land that sends large numbers of immigrants to this country, and these inspectors will be attached to the American consular and minister's services in the several countries.

Those desiring to come to this country shall file applications, giving age, birthplace, occupation, purpose, pedigree and other important or material points, thirty, sixty or ninety days, as may be decided upon before taking passage, and during that time the inspectors shall investigate the past lives and records of the applicants, and then act according to the finding. If the candidate is honest, sober and industrious he will receive his passport and be welcomed to our shores, but if he is found to be a pauper, an idiot, a criminal or insane, if he is depraved and dishonest, or wants to come over in fulfillment of a contract, he would be rejected.

Mr. Ford uses some very strong language in denouncing the wholesale and indiscriminate unregulated immigration which has become such a crying evil, and also says that "the importation of contract labor to compete with our own workmen must be stopped. The bill which the committee will introduce, will, if passed, put an end to that evil."

A Remarkable Meteor.
PORTSMOUTH, O., Nov. 20.—Residents of City township, on the border of the city, were treated to a remarkable sight Friday night by the shooting of a meteor. It occurred about 11 o'clock, and was witnessed by a large number. The light imparted by its fall was sufficient to make the surroundings of City precinct almost as bright as day. It is described as having introduced itself in the northeast by a profuse and almost blinding shower of light. It took a southwestward course, leaving a train of fire behind which imparted profusely the most beautiful of colors. The descent took up about three seconds, and was so close to the earth that the buzzing sound made by its cutting the air in its swift momentum could be distinctly heard.

Housewrecked by Regulators.
WINCHESTER, O., Nov. 20.—Sunday morning at 10 o'clock fifty masked men mounted on horses covered with sheets entered the village of Sardonia. They went directly to the house of Adam Burks, took him out into the yard and unceremoniously killed him. They then buried him with a shovel. Burks is married, and a shoemaker by occupation. He has been working in Cincinnati and returned to Sardonia but a short time ago. The people are wild with excitement.

A Well Known Knight Templar Dead.
LANCASTER, N. H., Nov. 20.—Rev. Charles J. Hentley, rector of St. Paul's church, and grand prelate of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar in New Hampshire, was found dead in his chamber at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, having succumbed to apoplexy. His family are all absent in Kansas. The funeral will occur at 2 p. m. Wednesday under the auspices of the Grand Commandery and the North Star Commandery of Lancaster.

Two Deaths Caused by a Suicide.
ROCKVILLE, Md., Nov. 20.—William Davis, twenty-three years of age, residing near Damascus, this county, on Thursday afternoon, whilst his mother was sick in bed, walked out of the house and committed suicide by shooting himself. His mother was at once advised of the act, and lived but a few moments after being informed. Insanity is hereditary in the Davis family.

A Sewer Caves In.
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—At 10 o'clock a. m. the sides of a sewer, under process of construction on Fifty-second street, caved in, instantly killing Joseph Sands, contractor, and Charles Baker, a bricklayer. Several other workmen were caught by the fall, but escaped serious injury.

Three Bohemians Drowned.
ROCKAWAY, L. I., Nov. 20.—Four men, supposed to be Bohemians, employed in grading on William T. Rully's property, at Baywater, went out on the bay Sunday afternoon. The boat was upset, and three of the men were drowned. Two of the bodies have been recovered.

Death of Dr. Sands.
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Dr. H. B. Sands, the eminent surgeon, died of apoplexy Sunday while in his carriage returning from a visit to a patient. He was fifty-nine years old. Among his most noted recent cases were those of Gen. Grant, Rosecrank and Dr. Agnew.

Widows Wandering Disconsolate.
The sultan of Zanzibar died recently, and now the sultan of Muscat has passed away. The number of widows wandering disconsolate along the shores of the Arabian sea, and the Indian ocean is enormous.

BARRY EXPELLED

From the Knights of Labor By a Vote of 123 to 24.

HE MAKES RIOTUS CHARGES AGAINST THE ADMINISTRATION

Of the Order, Charging That the Assembly Was Shamefully Packed in the Interest of Powderly, and That Records Were Changed by the Clerks in the General Office.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—Saturday afternoon after a heated discussion the general assembly of the Knights of Labor sustained the expulsion of T. B. Barry, by a vote of 123 to 24. Sunday Barry made public serious charges against the administration of the order, charging that the present general assembly was packed in the interest of Powderly, and is not a representative body.

He says that the most unscrupulous methods have been resorted to in order to prevent men who were known to be in any way opposed to the administration from being elected as representatives to this convention. Records were manipulated and changed in the general office, and members' lists created to suit the administration and representatives seated in the convention who had no legal right to seats therein, and representatives who were elected denied seats in the body. Clerks in the general office were engaged in manipulating records and selecting local assemblies that were known to be opposed to the administration, in order that steps might be taken to prevent them from having representation in the convention.

Regarding his expulsion by the executive board, he says: "The constitution disqualifies interested parties, and with all the lawless effrontery that they are endowed with, they surely will not claim that they were not interested, incompetent and unfit to sit in judgment when they themselves were the accused villains."

"The general assembly ordered the expulsion of all cigar makers unless they severed their connection with their trade unions, but such a storm of indignation arose from the outrageous and unlawful action of the general assembly, that even those who were instrumental in passing that resolution and the power to enforce it, recognized the illegal and unlawful position that it placed them in before the order, that they allowed it to become a dead letter rather than to enforce it."

Respecting the statement of Powderly that he (Barry) had admitted falsehoods charged against him, but had refused to retract them, Barry says "the statement is in keeping with other malicious falsehoods published by the general executive board."

The desire of the delegates to the general assembly of the Knights of Labor to continue T. V. Powderly as their chief has been expressed to him formally. The seven delegates who represent the Canadian assemblies called upon him and asked him to accept the office once more.

He gave them to understand that he would do so, providing he could choose his own advisors on the general executive board. Everything indicates that he will be given his wish, and there is now only a difference of opinion regarding the way that shall be done. One plan is for him to choose eight names, four of which will be selected by the assembly. Another plan contemplates the nomination of four men; if any be rejected new names shall be presented until the number is complete.

Under any circumstances, Mr. Powderly will undoubtedly continue in office and will choose his own cabinet. Canada wants to be represented on the general executive board; the south has a like desire, and a movement is on foot looking to the selection of some representative business man.

It is reported that a proposition looking to the formation of an entirely new constitution has been made to the general assembly and is being considered by the proper committee.

As there is a strong feeling in favor of a radical revision of the present constitution, there is little doubt that the new constitution will have many supporters.

Mr. Barry has ready another installment of his attack on Mr. Powderly's administration, and it is said that he will keep up his denunciation in the form of long articles for several days to come.

He Married the Cook.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 20.—It has leaked out that William J. Chisholm, son of William Chisholm, a millionaire shovel manufacturer, who lives on Euclid avenue, was married some thirty days ago to Bridget Barlow, a cook in the Chisholm kitchen. The bride had been a faithful servant of the family for several years. Young Chisholm is twenty-four years old. Father Thorpe, of the Catholic cathedral, who married them, says that he understood that it was a love match. The Chisholm family has not yet recognized their son's wife, who is living with her husband at the fashionable Stillman house.

NOT LIKE IT WAS LAST YEAR.

Canadians Have Taken Seals Unmolested All Season in the Behring Sea.

MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—A Metlakatla, B. C., correspondent says that the Canadians have been taking seals in Behring sea all the season unmolested, although the Alaska Commerce company has made repeated protests to the authorities at Washington in regard to the matter. The open instructions from Washington this season are similar to those issued last year, but the effect is different. Then seven seizures were made; now none are made.

People generally attribute the present state of affairs to the presence of British cruisers or a change of policy at Washington in accordance with which secret orders have been issued to the American cruisers to let British vessels alone. The directors of the Alaska company themselves confess that a great change has certainly taken place. They say they cannot understand it, but that if it continues they will not renew their leases, which expire in 1890.

Wrestling Match.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 20.—An exciting wrestling match took place here last night between James Morgan, a wrestler of note in the west, and the celebrated athlete, Mervin Thompson, which was won, to the surprise of every one present, by Morgan. The match was catch-as-catch-can, but two out of three falls. Morgan, who is a much smaller man than Thompson, won the match in the first two falls, the first being in forty seconds and the second in six minutes and forty-five seconds.

Loaves of Stolen Bread.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Annie Schotts, eighteen years of age, residing with her mother at No. 1266 Grosvenor Park avenue, committed suicide Sunday evening by shooting herself in the heart. From what can be learned the affair is a result of a love quarrel.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY.
Proprietors.

TUESDAY EVE., NOV. 20, 1888.

It doesn't look much like the Democratic party is dead or dying when it has just elected a State officer in Iowa for the first time in thirty years.

VICE PRESIDENT-ELECT Morton is not caring much for the $8,000 salary attached to the office. He is reported to be worth $20,000,000. Was Levi's bar'l on tap at the late election?

It has been definitely announced that the Democrats carried West Virginia at the late election for their National, State and Legislative tickets, but the vote was "too close to be comfortable." They escaped defeat by the "skin of their teeth."

The Louisville Democrat has voluntarily suspended publication after battling with the ups and downs of newspaper life for eighteen years. The retiring editor and owner will give his time and attention to evangelistic work. He has a fine field in which to labor right in Louisville.

LORD RANDOLPH CHURCHILL says President Cleveland served Lord Sackville West right by giving him his walking-papers for meddling in the affairs of this country. Of course, he did. No one has ever thought otherwise, except a few Republicans who consider it their duty to find fault with everything a Democrat does.

The clerk of the Fayette County Court says that of late the applications of negroes for pensions is almost unprecedented in number. He says that most of them are "big buck niggers" that look as well and strong as anybody. No doubt the increase referred to is the result of promises made the negroes by Republican wire workers during the late campaign.

THE BULLETIN has claimed all along that "boodle" had more to do with the recent defeat of the Democratic party in the national contest than anything else. The fight hinged on New York and Indiana, and these States were so close that "the dollar held the balance of power," and the result shows that "the g. o. p. held the money."

The New York Herald seems to think as we do on the subject. It is alarmed at the corrupt methods employed in the late national campaign. In contemplating the enormous amount of "boodle" raised, the Herald asks:

What was done with this money? Who paid the vast campaign assessments, and to whom were they paid in turn? These are questions which Congress has a right to ask, and if we have any independent men in the Senate an answer will be compelled. If Mr. Harrison comes into the Presidency through the use of money he is a tainted man holding a tainted office. He would not, under similar conditions, be permitted to sit in the Senate or the House. Why, unless his garments are seamless, should he be permitted to occupy the White House?

Unless this evil is met and checked it will grow. The use of money in the late canvass became immoral, profligate, disgraceful. The honest, simple necessary expenses of an election are readily known. We object to the dishonour of the franchise by the corrupt disbursement of money. And it is an objection which affects the life of the Nation.

Comments of the Press.

New York Star: "Among the curiosities of the election returns few are more striking than the fact that, while Governor Hill has a plurality of about 18,000 over Miller, and Harrison one of about 14,000 over Cleveland in this State, Hill's total vote is still 47,000 behind that of Cleveland. This shows that the interest in the Presidential contest was greater than in any other, and that many citizens voted for the President, but refrained from balloting for Governor. That this was not merely a "cut" on Governor Hill is proved by the fact that Lieutenant-Governor Jones and various local candidates also run behind the presidential electoral ticket."

Harrisburg Patriot: "William Walter Phelps was asked:

"How firmly, in your opinion, will this victory interweave the Republicans in power?"

"Four years, certainly, and twenty-four years if they adjust the inequalities of the tariff. If this be not done I think Democratic victory will follow in 1892."

"Can it be that one of the foremost Republicans in the country confesses that the present tariff system is unjust?"

"The Republican party has been telling the people that there is no need of tariff reform and that the workmen are happy, prosperous and contented."

"Now here comes Mr. Phelps with the opinion that reformation is needed and that unless the irregularities of the present system are adjusted the Republicans will suffer defeat in 1892."

"Is there one intelligent workman in the country who cannot see that the Republican party has been playing the hypocrite?"

LOST HER SIGHT.

A Girl's Desire to Become Handsome Results Most Disastrously.

[Los Angeles Times.]

About a year ago one of the most lovely girls in the State lived at No. 40 Orange avenue, Los Angeles. A pair of large, liquid blue eyes set off a face that would put any picture to shame and her form was simply perfect. The young lady was highly educated and possessed all the qualities that go to make up a society belle. Her parents are well-to-do and she has wanted for nothing since she was old enough to prattle. But she had one fault, and that fault proved her undoing. It is called vanity. She fairly worshiped her own eyes and did everything in her power to make them more beautiful than they were.

She used numerous drugs before she found what she wanted. This last drug made her eyes sparkle like diamonds, and she used it to such an extent that her right eye began to shrivel. This brought her to her senses and the family physician was called in. But he came too late, and informed the poor girl that she must lose one of her eyes sure, and probably both. The right eye was taken out some time ago and she has lost all sight in the left and will be blind for life. It is one of the saddest cases that was ever brought to light in this city.

The Laughing Event of the Season.

The managers of the opera house are determined that their patrons shall have no cause of complaint at the quality of the entertainments they are offering during the present season; and on next Monday evening the famous "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," will be presented by Fowler and Warrington's original company. The troupe is a talented one and will undoubtedly please the most exacting of play-goers, and as for the play itself, all who have ever seen it will unite in saying that its production here will constitute the laughing event of the season. This is what the Chicago Herald says:

"'Skipped by the Light of the Moon' is an extravaganza which depends for its humor upon the cleverness of the players. The house was not only crowded, but several hundreds of people were turned away because there was neither seats or standing room. Taking only into consideration the mirth-provoking and laughter-producing situations, this may be said to be the most laughable, we might more properly say side-splitting play we have seen in many seasons, and the amusement-seekers who fail to see 'Skipped by the Light of the Moon,' will miss more fun than they will be able to derive from any other source in a long time."

Fashions for the Ladies.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

Directorie wedding gowns worn recently are made of white brocaded satin with large designs that are not repeated more than once in each width. The very long-trimmed bodices, four in number, are continuous with the back of the waist, while the flat side breadths extend upward to form part of the front and side gores of the bodice. Directly in front white embroidered gauze drapery is put on in many folds and is flushed at the top of the waist by short revers of brocade, while knife-pleated frills of gauze scalloped deeply trim the sides of the skirt in lengthwise rows. Similar frills form the large French cravat which is now so much in favor, and also the cuffs on the elbow sleeves. Velvet-trimmed dresses with petticoats of brocade are worn by the mother of the bride and by wedding guests this season. Gray, mouse-color and electric-blue velvet are fashionable colors for such gowns, with white skirts brocaded with gold or silver, or else, for short figures, the brocade is in stripes of many colored flowers or vine stripes.

White toilets are likely to be more than ever the rage in the fashionable world this winter. Of white dress fabrics there is an elegant and almost endless variety—brocade, velvet both plain and striped, watered silk, bengaline, Onoman silk, faille, Irish poplin, velvet, embossed satin, India cashmere, Henrietta cloths of various grades, French and English veilings, China crepe-lisses, tulle and gold-embroidered white India silk muslins being equally in vogue.

OUR WORDS AND MEDITATIONS.

The Subject of an Eloquent Discourse
Delivered at M. E. Church,
South, by Rev. H. C.
Morrison.

The initial sermon of the protracted meeting at the M. E. Church, South, was preached last evening by Rev. H. C. Morrison. He arrived here yesterday on the 11 a. m. train from Frankfort.

The services were held in the basement of the church, where a small crowd listened to an eloquent discourse. Mr. Morrison took for his text the fourteenth verse of the nineteenth Psalm:

Let the works of my mouth, and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer.

He spoke first of the necessity of repentance if sinners hoped to be saved. No man is lost because he sins, but all men are lost unless they repent of their sins. The essence of repentance is to wake up to the fact that we have sinned against God. True repentance comes from a realization or knowledge that we have sinned against those who love us. Religion is to love God—to love Him with thy whole heart and, thy neighbor as thyself.

God is displeased with every word and every thought that is impure. "Be ye holy and pure in spirit." The law punishes men only for their criminal actions, but God will hold men accountable for their words and thoughts. Out of the fullness of the heart the tongue speaketh. If one's heart is right then will his actions be also.

The evils of gossiping, bad language and unchaste conversation were in turn spoken of. The speaker asserted that there is no greater enemy of mankind than the one who pours out from a foul and impure heart vulgar stories. "We die, but our words and the impressions they make live after us." We look and bar our houses against robbers and assassins, but it was of far greater importance that we should lock our hearts against impure words and thoughts.

It is impossible to do justice to the subject in a brief synopsis. The speaker was eloquent and earnest throughout, holding the close attention of his audience.

Preaching this afternoon at 3 o'clock and this evening at 7 o'clock. The services this evening will be held in the main room of the church. All are cordially invited. To-morrow night Mr. Morrison will preach to the Sunday school pupils, but everybody is invited to hear him.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.

A Move on Foot to Establish a Plant in This City—What is Being Done.

A move is on foot to establish an electric light plant in this city, and the probability is that it will be successful.

Mr. M. A. King, representing the Edison Electric Light Company, has been talking up the matter for some time. His proposition has been placed before a number of the business men of the city, but heretofore they have not taken much interest in the matter.

At present, however, the outlook is encouraging. Mr. King is engaged this week in a personal canvass of the city in the interest of the move. If he meets with the proper encouragement a stock company will be organized in the near future and a plant erected.

He has recently established a plant at Winchester, Ky., and also at other points. A plant has also been established at Ashland within the past year, and that city is now lighted by electric light instead of gas.

The old gas company, of this city, was some weeks ago granted the use of the streets for electric light purposes, the object being, as stated, to establish a plant in connection with the gas works, but nothing has since been heard in regard to the move.

The new bridge over Licking river for the M. & B. S. Railroad was tested Sunday. The company will hustle things along this week in order to have trains running as soon as possible."

JOHN A. MURPHY, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, died last evening at the family residence on Vine street, after an illness of one week. He was twenty-five years of age, and was a brother of Mr. P. J. Murphy, of the firm of Hopper & Murphy. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock, at St. Patrick's Church, after which the remains will be interred at Washington.

Here is the Arab test of a good horse, which every farmer can apply. It is simply to observe your horse when he is drinking out of a brook. If, in bringing down his head, he remains square without bending his limbs, he possesses sterling qualities, and all parts of his body are built symmetrically.

The three-year old record has been reduced four times this year. Dodd Pete held it at the opening of the season, but Gold Leaf soon reduced it to 2:18. Yolo Maid appeared and reduced it to 2:16 1/2. Yolo Maid then paced in 2:14, which mark the three-year-old record remains. This performance makes the three and four-year-old record 2:14, while the five-year-old record for side-wheelers is 2:13 1/2.

WESTWARD.

Russia Slowly Advancing on the Austrian Frontier.

RUSSIA, FRANCE AND SPAIN SAID TO BE FORMING AN ALLIANCE.

Spain Has Nothing to Lose, But May Possibly Gain a Great Deal—The Indications of War in the Spring Chestnut Again—Secret Treaty Between Russia and France—Foreign News.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The attempt of the Russian semi-official press to belittle the importance of the Imperial ukase under which Russia will push fresh divisions forward to her frontiers gives no peaceful assurance. It is a movement of an undoubted warlike character, yet involves no immediate prospect of a breach of the peace. Owing to the insufficiency of facilities it will require months to effect the contemplated movement of troops.

The better railroad system of Austria enables her to place her reserves on the frontiers within say two weeks, so that she can easily countermove against Russia. There is greater alarm over the success of Russia in obtaining her Parisian loan. Money is the only sinew of war in which Russia is lacking, and the present loan is negotiated as a preliminary to a larger one. It is Russia's purpose to create no war alarm, but on the contrary, to announce a powerful policy until she has borrowed what the exigencies of a war may require.

The redistribution of war forces would not for some time, even to experts, develop its warlike and offensive character. It is the policy of Germany to throw obstructions in the way of Russia in her efforts to obtain money, and the Berlin press advises Germans not only to invest in Russian securities, but to unload what they hold upon Paris, where the preliminary 500,000,000 franc loan has been taken.

The fact that Frenchmen take Russian securities, and that the French government and press of late say nothing about the frontier troubles in Alsace, which are of frequent occurrence, that they endeavor to keep down all war alarms, and that Minister Goblet talks kindly of the pope, and announces France as his only friend, gives rise to the suspicion that if not an alliance there is an entente cordiale between Russia, France and Spain as against the central alliance.

It has happened more than once in the history of European politics that events in a minor state have changed the course of affairs in an unexpected manner.

Spain is in the condition that she has nothing to lose, but possibly sees something to gain by an interference with recognized interests. The fact is Don Carlos, insolent and doubly insolent from his recent accession to enormous wealth, has poured a welcome sum of money into the ever insatiable penurious and his shindlings have considered that M. Canovas del Castillo was as good an object as any to vent their discontent upon. They would be as ready to recommend him to a gallows for a superior consideration.

The fact remains that the queen regent has little to sustain her but her position as the mother of the legitimate heir of Spain, and in the money, nervous condition of affairs her foreign birth goes far to outweigh the circumstance of her being the representative of the heirloom of Spain. Outraged from France on account of his senseless intrigues, Switzerland repudiated Don Carlos, and he now depends upon the internal differences of his native country for his last resources.

What would such an incongruous element as the alliance of Spain, France and Russia amount to against the firm resolution of Germany, Austria and Italy? Very little; and there will be no determined opposition to any cabinet which Spain chooses to elect.

The Spanish heir seems likely, from all reports, to live to succeed to the throne of his country, and Don Carlos' scheme to marry his son to the Spanish infant is therefore rendered nugatory.

The clerical element are hesitating to further support the Carlists, their experience hitherto having not proved satisfactory, but the Republicans are aggressive and matters in Spain are likely to have some grave effects upon history.

All things point more and more definitely to war in the spring. The king of Belgium has recently voiced such an expectation.

The independent German papers say that the present war scare has in view another imperial demand for money for the army and navy.

Mrs. Parsons in London.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Socialists of London held an immense meeting in Victoria park Sunday to commemorate the Trafalgar square and Chicago riots. Speeches were made from three platforms. Mrs. Parsons advocated the use of bombs. Mr. Graham, member of parliament, denounced capital and landlords, and said that until workers organized to take land, capital and machinery for their own benefit, they would continue to be slaves, and the Trafalgar square and Chicago scenes would be repeated.

For the Defense of India.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The viceroy of India informed a Durbar at Patna that the British government would not avail itself of the offers of money from the Indian princes for the defense of the country, but would ask them to form strong native forces for service with the imperial troops. The government would provide English officers, and furnish breech-loaders and a battery of four guns for each Punjab chief.

EXPLOSION IN A FOUNDRY.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 20.—While Carl Phett, a molder at the brass foundry, was working at the foot of one of the cupolas containing molten iron, a rumbling sound from the cupola was heard. A minute later flames were fiercely driven out of the opening below, and molten iron from the receptacle above was splattered for yards around. The unfortunate man was enveloped by fire, from which he escaped only after his hands and arms were charred, and his face and body burned in huge spots. It was so terrible a torture to the man that he pleaded of his fellow workmen to kill him. From his arms flesh hung in shreds, so that in pulling off his garments pieces of flesh came with them. The explosion knocked the bottom entirely out of the cupola. It is believed that in gathering up scraps of iron about the country a gas-pipe bomb had been mixed with the iron, and had found its way into the pot.

Earthquake in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Observations taken at the Oakland and Alameda universities on the movements of the earthquake through the central part of the state Sunday afternoon show the motion and directions of the shock to be virtually the same as was noted in this city. The University in California reports the shock to be the greatest since 1871. In some places buildings have been reported to have been rolled out of their cradles. The shock was accompanied by a rumbling sound which was distinctly heard.

Italian Rioters Capture a Railroad.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Nov. 20.—One hundred and fifty Italians rebelled at Paquetville Saturday because the Herford railroad company would not pay them in October. They drove all the hands from a steam plow and disabled it. Two engines were run off the track and disabled, and the timbers of a bridge were cut.

The Burlington Strike.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The Times says: There is a possibility of a speedy settlement of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy strike, which has been on since last February. There are about one-third of the men who went out on strike yet remaining idle, the others having found work on other roads. An effort is to be made to get these men back on the Burlington road. It is understood that the old men will go back to work on the old terms if they cannot get any better. First Assistant Grand Chief Engineer Alexander, of San Francisco, will conduct the negotiations.

Tunnel to Canada.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 20.—The Detroit Railroad and Tunnel company has been incorporated for ninety-nine years, with a capital of $1,500,000, which is more than half of the estimated cost of the proposed tunnel under the Detroit river to Canada. Relics of an Old Railroad.

The Quincy railroad had its inception in 1825, through a petition for a charter from the profile quarries of that town to tide water. The story of its building and its uses has been often told, and its record is in every home cyclopedia. There is nothing further to note of its origin beyond the fact that the late Bradley Bryant, father of Bradley J. P. Bryant, the Boston architect, was its builder, in connection with the late Col. Thomas H. Perkins, a Boston capitalist. Remnants of the disused terminals of the road are in sight today in a broken way, the central division of perhaps three miles of the original route being utilized as a part of the Granite branch of the Old Colony railroad.—Boston Transcript.

A Dog in Partnership.

"Now, Gus," said a boy to his playmate, "we've got this dog in partnership, and half belongs to each of us. We'll call one end mine, and one end yours, and you can have just which end you like." "All right," replied Gus; "you can have the front end" (persuasively), "with the eyes and the ears, and the mouth, and the collar, and the teeth, or the rear end, with just the tail." "I'll take the front end." "All right; you will have to feed him then."—The Argonaut.

Submarine Torpedo Boat.
